Mr. Gray T. Chang

Dear Mr. Chang:

I am pleased to inform you that you have earned an A+ grade in the course "Semiconductor Device". In this class of 42 students, including 6 graduate students, you rank among the best three.

Your excellent midterm and final examination scores testify your clear understanding of the properties of semiconductors and the device physics. They also prove to me that you have good command of electronics and general physics.

I hope that you will further pursue your study in this general direction. If you decide to enter the graduate school, you will, I am certain, be a successful graduate student.

You may use this as a letter of recommendation for employment or graduate admission.

Sincerely,
